SPIRITED DEBATE WON BY CAROLINA

Judges Give Decision Against University of Pennsylvania.

END OF SERIES OF THREE

Out of 27 Contests University of North Carolina Has Been Victorious in 19.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHAPEL HILL, N. C., November 20.—Representatives of the Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies of the University of North Carolina and of the Philomathean Society of the University of Pennsylvania, last night in a close and spirited debate decided that an inheritance tax should be levied by the several States rather than by the national government. Messrs. C. H. Hoover and Frederick H. Koshwitz, of Pennsylvania, by a clear, strong and convincing argument, advanced the position of the Federal tax. Messrs. E. M. Highsmith and E. E. Barnett, of North Carolina, with clear, stronger and more convincing argument, maintained the position of the State.

ternates of Pennsylvania, acted as time-keepers. The hall was decked in the red and blue of Pennsylvania, and the white and blue of Carolina.

A large and intensely interested audience lent its thrill to the occasion. During the suspense of the decision of the judges, music was furnished by the university orchestra. The Pennsylvania took their defeat with exceptional good grace.

This was the third debate between the two universities. In 1907 Pennsylvania won from Carolina in Chapel Hill, and last fall in the University of Pennsylvania. To-night Barnett and Highsmith won the decisive debate of the series. The relations between the two universities have been most friendly and cordial, and a second series will no doubt be arranged.

Twelve years ago the University of North Carolina began its debating career, and during these years has engaged in twenty-seven debates. Of these, North Carolina has won nineteen—two out of three with Pennsylvania; two out of three with Virginia; one out of one with Tulane; one out of one with Washington and Lee; one out of two with George Washington; two out of two with Johns Hopkins; three out of three with Vanderbilt; and eight out of twelve with Georgia.

The Philomathean Society of Pennsylvania, which has splendid debating record, including five successive victories over the Philomathean Society of Columbia University, is looking around for new forensic worlds to conquer, chose the Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies of North Carolina as the most formidable opponents in the South. To-night, Philomathean's sister society, the Zelosophe, debated on the same question of the inheritance tax with Swarthmore College, from which the Zelosophe has previously won ten out of seventeen.

The University of Pennsylvania, independent of these two societies, also holds a triangular debate with Columbia and Cornell, and for the last three years has won both sides of the three-cornered contests.

Full worthy of the splendid record of the Philomathean Society and the University of Pennsylvania, Hoover and Koshwitz proved themselves to be tonight. Conversational, clear and to the point they were at all times.

batting union, and T. W. Andrews, D. B. Torgue, H. E. Stacy, C. W. Tillett, Jr., K. D. Battle and J. C. M. Vann and A. H. King, wearers of the Carolina debaters' "N. C." The winning of the debate to-night considerably atoned for the miscarriage of the Carolina-Virginia football game, and college spirit is again at high tide.

WILL STAND TRIAL FOR THIRD TIME

Hustings Court Will Hear Evidence in Murphy Horse-Stealing Case.

RICHMOND BOY ARRESTED

Meeting Held in Interest of Laymen's Missionary Movement.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., November 20.—The famous case of Dr. J. P. Murphy, indicted for horse-stealing, will come up on its third trial before the Hustings Court on Monday, two previous juries having disagreed as to his guilt. Dr. Murphy, a man of pleasing address, dropped into Petersburg last summer, gave out the information that he was a large raiser of Angora goats, and said he wanted a farm in this vicinity to stock and increase his holdings in goats. One day he hired a horse and buggy from A. W. Mattox to look at a farm in Chesterfield county, with the understanding, as Mr. Mattox thought, that the team was to be returned the same day. Dr. Murphy, however, did not have the same understanding, and he did not return the team on that day, nor at all, in fact. As the days passed inquiries were sent out in various directions, and traces of Dr. Murphy and the team were discovered on their travels through Mecklenburg county out into North Carolina. He was finally caught after two weeks or more at Fayetteville, N. C., and brought back to stand trial for horse-stealing. He pleaded his own case in two trials before the Hustings Court, denied all intention of stealing the team, said he had been on a prolonged spree, did not know what he was doing or to whom the team belonged or how he had gotten possession of it, and by his reasoning won the sympathy of jurors. In many respects the case is a remarkable one.

The Work of Laymen.
A meeting of the general committee of laymen representing the twelve Protestant churches in this city was held last night in the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church, and very favorable reports of the work done towards the whirlwind campaign soon to be inaugurated here in the interest of foreign missions were received. Executive Secretary F. A. Brown, of Richmond, and Rev. E. H. Rawlings, also of Richmond, were present to encourage and advise the committee. Plans for conducting the campaign, which is to be in charge of Mr. Brown, were agreed on. The matter of the laymen's work is to be presented in the churches to-morrow, and a big mass meeting will be held in Tabb Street Church in the afternoon, at which prominent men will speak.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Two young men giving their names as W. T. Belt, of Richmond, and William Clator, of Baltimore, were arrested, night before last, before the Police Station, in Chesterfield county, on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, on suspicion of intent to rob freight cars, and were held for trial. Subsequent developments, however, proved that their only fault was that of a freight car thief, and that for this purpose they had climbed on top of one of the cars. They were taken before Magistrate Lundie, in Chesterfield, yesterday, and sentenced to pay a fine of $5 or $25 to jail for thirty days. They were taken to their parents for the money.

John Newton, a negro, is held in jail here for the Prince George authorities, charged with attempting to kill his old father, Sam Newton, with a stick of wood on November 6. The old man's injuries came near proving fatal, but he is recovering. Newton was arrested in Richmond.

The Prince George Circuit Court adjourned last evening after a session of four days. Many cases were entered in the chancery causes and several common law cases were disposed of. Isaac Brown, colored, pleaded guilty to the charge of having two wives, and was sentenced to three years' hard labor on the public roads.

Hubbard; Secretary, T. M. Davis. The object is to erect a general merchandise brokerage business. Capital stock, $1,000 to $10,000.

An Unfortunate Case.
A white woman who gave her name as Pauline Ford, but who says the name is fictitious, was arrested before the Court yesterday morning. She says she is married, is from Lynchburg, and owns property in that city. She arrived here yesterday from Maryland, and her intention was to take the afternoon train for Lynchburg. She had a colored woman to direct her to a restaurant, and took supper at a colored eating house. She bought a bottle of liquor, and then intended to leave for Lynchburg on the 12:20 P. M. train. She was found by a policeman wandering about the railroad tracks at night in a dazed condition, and was taken to the Police Station. She claims to have been doped and robbed, and the police are investigating the case.

WINCHESTER, VA., November 20.—"Stonewall Mills," one of the most historic structures in the Shenandoah Valley, was destroyed to-day, entailing a loss of $6,000, partially insured. Standing on the famous Valley turnpike, near Winchester, the mill has been a landmark for nearly 100 years. It was one of the few flouring mills to escape destruction when General Philip Sheridan laid waste the Shenandoah Valley. For years the property of Postum Hahn, it later passed into the hands of Samuel Childs. When this fire was burning (living embers ignited the barn belonging to James H. Williams, and this too was totally destroyed. Loss, $2,000.

FEDERAL COURT AGAIN POSTPONED

Judge Connor Sitting on Circuit Bench in Richmond.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 20.—The November term of the United States Court for Raleigh, continued some time ago to December 14, is again postponed, this time to January, the date to be determined later. This is made necessary by the fact that Judge Connor will probably be detained in Richmond on the bench of the Circuit Court of Appeals until almost Christmas.

Curator H. H. Brimley, of the State Museum, is getting the braces and supports ready for mounting the massive brass figure-heads from the battleship North Carolina, and the cruiser Raleigh in the museum. They are to be suspended against the wall, in spite of the fact that they weigh something like 5,000 pounds each. The one from the Raleigh is already here, and that from the North Carolina is expected any day now.

Assisting in Florida Campaign.
Hon. J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, left to-day for Florida to spend a week in taking a hand in the campaign that is on in that State for an amendment to the Constitution that will put the public school system on a better foundation as to the sources of its revenue. It seems that the Supreme Court has rendered a decision in a last case that has declared unconstitutional the principal sources of the public school revenue in recent years, so that it becomes necessary to inaugurate this campaign for remedying the trouble.

The Raleigh police are "up against it" again in being thus far unable to "connect with" the perpetrator of a third bold invasion of the City Market, or the City Hall, in which the police department is located. Some one entered the market some time Thursday night and stole five fine chickens, five quail, twelve dozen eggs and some other things from the stall of W. T. Saddle. The night before some one entered the place and took a quantity of rabbits from the stall of S. C. Christman & Son. It is believed that a key being used, as no locks have been forced.

Central Hospital Directors.
The board of directors of the Central Hospital for the Insane here has chosen D. G. Daniel, of Littleton, a member of the executive committee. This action was taken at a special session just held, at which the recommendation that the Carolina Power Company, operating the Buckhorn power plant, be awarded the contract for supplying light and electric power for the hospital for the next two years was adopted. It was found that it will be impossible for the board to hold the regular annual meeting in December, and therefore the reports of Su-
